Trailing
Until 1962Two Years to Tie
Reds in Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is committed to second place in the missile race, at least until the end of 1961, says a key Air Force general, and nothing can be done now to change it.

Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the Air Force's Research and Development Command, said Friday he had pleaded in 1958 and 1959 for more missiles.

Useless to Urge More Now

But it takes two years to get increased production of missiles, Schriever said, and two years from now new and better missiles should be ready for production. So it is useless now to urge more production of the present generation of rocket weapons, he indicated.

"Increasing the number of missiles in your inventory isn't like turning a faucet on or off," he told the House Space Committee. "We are committed now to the number of missiles we'll have for the next two years."

The United States and the Soviet Union are about equal now in the number of missiles, Schriever said.

"But next year, if our intelligence estimates are correct, they will have superiority in numbers," he added.

Lines Up With Power

Even so, Schriever said, this does not mean the U.S.S.R. will have more over-all military strength.

"You can't equate the total deterrent position with the number of missiles," he said.

Schriever lined up with Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command, in urging funds for keeping a large number of armed bombers in constant flight to avoid being destroyed on the ground by any sneak attack.

Town of Lloyd
Votes on School
Bond Issue Today

Town of Lloyd taxpayers will vote today from 2 to 9 p. m. on a $1,925,000 bond issue for the construction of a junior-senior high school on Pancake Hollow Road. Voting will be at Highland High School.

The eligible voters of the school district will decide on a proposal for acquiring the site on Pancake Hollow Road and construction of a building capable of accommodating from 800 to 900 pupils.

The proposed site is a 60-acre tract on the land of Albert Wilklow. The 20-year bond issue if approved by the voters will increase school taxes $4.56 per $1,000 on assessed valuation.

Specifications for the proposed school also includes an auditorium seating 500, a two-story gymnasium, special classrooms for science, laboratories, business education, homemaking, industrial arts and music.

The architect's estimate of $16.15 per square foot is considered conservative by those who formerly opposed the bond issue.

Nixon Defends Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has defended a tie-breaking vote he cast against an education bill by saying that in the field of education, there are two problems.

They are, he said, "Attracting better teachers and raising their salaries, and maintaining our traditional school system that operates without federal control."

He indicated at a news conference Friday that it was his fear of federal control that prompted him to vote against the measure in the Senate Wednesday.

Finch Trial Reaches Crashing Climax
As He Reveals Wife's Final Minutes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, his usually strong voice cracking, told the jury at his murder trial Friday that he knelt sobbing at the side of his dying wife and heard these last words:

"Take care of the kids."

The words came from the mortally-wounded woman in a near whisper, the doctor said, and then—

"She just went limp."

Women Jurors Weep

A packed courtroom was hushed, hanging on every word. Several women jurors wept.

At one point Dr. Finch paused, staring at the rail in front of the witness stand. Scarcely a muscle moved in the audience while the

Dense Smoke Fells Fireman

Doctor's Home Badly
Damaged by Fire Friday

A Kingston fireman was hospitalized Friday night after he collapsed from the effects of dense smoke while assisting other firemen battle flames that caused extensive damage to the home of Dr. Hamilton Boyd Jr., 175 Manor Avenue.

Fire officials said Robert Priest, who is assigned to Central Fire Station, collapsed at the scene of the blaze. Police administered oxygen and a call was made to Fatum's ambulance service.

Condition Fair Today

En route to Benedictine Hospital Priest received more oxygen and after treatment at the hospital he was placed in an oxygen tent. The hospital today described Priest's condition as fair. Shortly before 8:15 p. m. fire was discovered in the utility room over the garage which is attached to Dr. Boyd's residence. A general alarm was sounded and firemen in command of Fire Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius Buchholtz went to the scene of the blaze.

Hole Chopped in Roof

On arrival firemen discovered flames shooting from a rear window of the room over the garage, and soon hoses were pressed into action. Fire officials said it was necessary to chop a hole in the roof to get to the fire.

The blaze was brought under control in less than two hours. Fire officials said most of the fire damage was confined to that part of the building above the garage. Contents of the room included a washing machine, a dryer and sewing machine and other equipment.

Authorities said smoke damage resulted on the second floor, slight water damage was reported.

Thought Fire Out

According to fire officials, James Boyd, 12-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Boyd, and Martin Kelly, 12, of 100 Elmendorf Street had been playing with a chemistry set in the room where the fire originated. The boys had a small fire in a container, and when they left the room to watch television in another room between 7:30 and 8 p. m. they thought they had extinguished the small fire.

Water pumped through Engine 1 was used to combat the flames, and ladders with the total length of 178 feet were raised to the roof.

Fireman Priest was overcome during the early stages of the fire, authorities said. Fatum's ambulance was summoned at 8:41 p. m.

Other apparatus answering the general alarm included Engines 3 and 4, Trucks 1 and 2, Salvage Company, Corps, Wiltoyek Volunteer and Excelsior Hose Company. The last apparatus returned to headquarters at 12:01 a. m.

3 Are Arrested
For Assault on
Ex-KHS Athlete

Accused of punching and kicking a former 22-year-old Kingston High School star athlete during a fight on Sycamore Street, shortly after 3 a. m. today, three brothers were apprehended by city police on charges of second degree assault.

Police booked the trio as Thomas C. Peoples, 29, a bus boy; Albert E. Peoples, 19, who is in the Army stationed at Fort Biagg, and their brother, Joseph L. Peoples, 22, all of 104 Auburn Street.

Smith Fair Today

According to information signed by Detectives William Slover and Leonard Ellsworth, the three defendants are accused of assaulting and injuring Robert Smith, of 44 Sycamore Street. Smith was taken to Kingston Hospital, where he was reported in "fair" condition, according to detectives.

Arraigned before City Judge Aaron E. Klein, the defendants each pleaded innocent. Bail was fixed for each at $500 cash or $1,000 property bond. They were remanded to the County Jail until bail is posted.

No Funds for Counsel

The defendants told the judge they had no funds to employ counsel, and Judge Klein assigned Attorney Thomas Saccamano. After conferring with the trio and reading the information filed by police, Saccamano said there may be conflict between the three cases and he said Albert wanted him to represent him, while Thomas and Joseph decided they wanted other counsel.

Judge Klein then adjourned the cases of Thomas and Joseph until 9 a. m. Tuesday.

Border Fight
Is Told by Cairo Press

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman today said there was sporadic small arms fire from Syrian units in a demilitarized zone southeast of the Sea of Galilee during the night.

He said there were no Israeli casualties and the Syrian fire was not returned.

Cairo newspapers today printed stories of a 2½-hour exchange of fire between Israeli and Syrian forces in a demilitarized zone but did not specify the time.

The papers carried news agency stories quoting an Israeli spokesman and said the incident took place 40 miles north of Tawafik village.

The reports said that a number of Israeli soldiers were wounded. An Israeli spokesman charged Friday that the Syrians opened fire just before midnight Thursday near the Beit Kazir settlement and shot off mortars and machine-guns spasmodically for about 2½ hours. The announcement made no mention of casualties.

The Egyptian press interpreted the Israeli clashes as part of a plan to occupy fully the demilitarized zone along the Syrian frontier and to expel Palestine Arabs now living in those zones.

One Cairo newspaper predicted Israel would not wage all-out war with the United Arab Republic over the border dispute "because she knows she cannot fight alone."

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Automobile and steel production and retail sales dipped this week but confidence that 1960 will be a good business year held strong.

The stock market held its ups and downs. Some observers said a major worry was over failure of new car sales to show as big an increase as expected.

Auto Sales Pick Up

Retail auto sales picked up slightly in the final third of January, when 173,000 new U.S.-built cars were delivered. Nevertheless, the industry cut output this week to an estimated 166,000, the lowest of the new year, from 173,231 last week. A strike at a Chevrolet engine plant was reflected in the figures.

Chrysler President L. L. Colbert said he still expects the industry to sell seven million cars this year but added that "sales are going to have to explode sometime this spring to do it."

A surprise entry in the highly competitive small car field loomed when a New York dealer contracted to import 10,000 Russian-made cars.

The steel industry kept its eyes on automobile sales as the major indicator of what its own business is going to be in the second quarter of this year. It was certain production would run at a high level through the first quarter. But with inventories quickly being built up in other industries, the auto makers hold the answer.

Production this week was estimated at 2,687,000 tons, down from 2,717,000 last week.

One producer predicted output would drop to 70 per cent of capacity from the current 94 per cent by the third quarter.

Retail Trade Slips

Retail trade finally quit its steady climb, slipping back from last week's volume but remaining slightly ahead of a year ago. Poor weather in some areas and an end to clearance sales were blamed.

The New York Stock Exchange volume was 14,075,209 shares compared with 14,065,490 the previous week. Bond sales volume was $29,179,000 par value

Democrats
Ask Equal
NBC TimeWould Give Reply
To Rocky's Report

NEW YORK (AP)—The Democrats have asked for equal time on television to reply to Republican Gov. Rockefeller's reports on his legislative program.

Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast asked for the time in a letter Friday to William N. Davidson, a vice president of the National Broadcasting Co. NBC carried one of Rockefeller's reports on its New York stations.

Rejected Before

Five years ago, after Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman had delivered such reports on TV, the Republicans requested equal time from NBC.

The company then rejected the request on grounds that the Federal Communications Commission had ruled a public official reporting on his stewardship did not automatically require a reply from the opposing party.

NBC said at the time, however, that it would be willing to grant equal time if, in its judgment, an official discussed his stewardship "in partisan manner." It did not consider the Harriman reports "partisan."

Urges Fairness

Prendergast said in his letter that Rockefeller "necessarily advocates the enactment of various controversial measures." He said fairness and statutory obligation required equal time for the Democrats.

Davidson made no immediate reply.

Rockefeller gave the second of his reports this week in a 15-minute taped program carried by various stations in the state. It was not carried by the coast-to-coast NBC network.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur will be operated upon for a prostate gland enlargement, the Army announced today.

"I have been advised no date has been set for the operation," said Col. Gordon Barclay, 1st Army public information officer. "There is no indication now as to when a date can be determined."

The 80-year-old general entered Lenox Hill Hospital a week ago. His progress since then has been reported good but gradual.

Worst in Bolivia's History

Child's Death Pushes
Air Crash Toll to 59

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The death toll in Bolivia's worst aviation disaster reached 59 today as the lone survivor succumbed to injuries.

Jenny Escobar, two-year-old Bolivian child, was the only person found alive when rescuers reached the wreckage Friday. The child died several hours later while being taken to a hospital Cochabamba.

10 Young Victims

Nine other children died in the crash of the flaming Lloyd Aeero Boliviana airliner. Airline officials said seven Americans were among the victims.

The scene of the accident was high in the Andes, some 20 miles from Cochabamba. Lack of communications and the confusion following the crash prevented news-men from obtaining accurate information immediately. The official passenger list still has not been made public.

The U.S. Consulate here identified three of the Americans as John Manning, an oil company executive, his wife and son. The consulate said Manning worked for the Delta Exploration Co. of Jackson, Miss., and resided in Ruston, La.

An unofficial list from the Lloyd Aeero Boliviana airline listed four other passengers believed to be North Americans. They were John and Jack Reynolds, Dietri Klein, and Gerardo Halken Jager.

There was no confirmation by the consulate.

Engine Caught Fire

An airline spokesman said one of the plane's four engines had caught fire after takeoff from Cochabamba, a city 1½ miles high in the Andes of central Bolivia. Five minutes later the DC4 plummeted into a lagoon.

The plane was bound for this two-mile-high Bolivian capital, 140 miles northwest of Cochabamba. The crash was the fifth this year involving commercial airliners and boosted the number of victims to 220.

Crime is not entirely limited to the young, according to the annual report of Sheriff Claude Bell to the State Department of Correction. During the year 1959 one male age 80 was committed to the county jail, two males of the age 78 were also confined and there were eight others over 70 years of age who were confined in the county jail.

Most in 16-22 Group

However, the greatest number of persons confined to jail during 1959 was between 16 and 22 years of age. The age during which the greater number became involved was 20, a total of 57 males and one female of that age was committed to jail and of that number 32 males were sentenced to jail after conviction.

Among the 1,113 persons committed to the county jail during 1959, the charge ranged from one for murder, first degree, to minor offenses including one for driving a motor vehicle with a flat tire.

Confined to the jail on December 31, 1959, were 36 men.

The highest number of inmates at any one time was 59 males and five females and the lowest population was 27 males. The average daily number of inmates during the year was 42 males and 1.31 females.

$15,163 for Meals

During the year there were 43,787 meals served in the jail at a cost of $15,163.93 or an average cost of less than 35 cents per meal.

The annual report of Sheriff Bell was submitted to the State Commission of Correction for the year ending Dec. 31, 1959, pursuant to Section 50 of the Correction Law. Sheriff Bell was complimented on the thoroughness of the report which has been checked by the State Commission and found to be in "good order." In a letter acknowledging the report Charles D. Mullady, secretary, expresses the appreciation of the Commission of Correction for Sheriff Bell's cooperation in matter of submitting the report.

Leading the list of offenses for which persons were confined to jail is "public intoxication."

Gunfire Is
First Sign
Of UnrestAssassination Try
Is Not Indicated

HAVANA (AP) — A curtain of official silence fell on Soviet First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan's movements today after the outburst of gunfire that threw into turmoil the opening Friday of the new Soviet cultural exposition in Havana.

The mystery shots came on the heels of an anti-Communist student demonstration in a nearby park that confronted Prime Minister Fidel Castro with the first open defiance of his be-keind-to-the Reds policies.

Fails to Shake Soviet

The shooting failed to shake or silence the wily Mikoyan. The veteran Kremlin salesman told the Cubans the secret of the Soviet Union's success lay in "establishing the power of the workers and peasants—and confiscating without any compensation all means of production."

Castro has called his revolution a revolution of workers, peasants and students. He has seized sugar plantations and cattle ranches but has promised compensation to owners.

Friday's violence marked the first open sign of unrest among the students regarded as stalwarts of most of Castro's program, including land reform.

Would Avoid Repetition

Official silence on Mikoyan's plans for today was seen as a move to avoid repetition of any embarrassing anti-Red demonstrations like that put on by the students.

The rattle of gunfire echoed over a two-block area for about five minutes as Mikoyan stood calmly on the open platform waiting to make his ceremonial speech. There was no indication the shooting was an assassination attempt against the Soviet leader.

The shooting broke out in the confusion surrounding police efforts to break up the students' anti-Mikoyan demonstration which swirled around the statue of Cuban patriot Jose Marti.

Riot Follows Ceremony

Mikoyan had placed a big floral wreath bearing the red hammer and sickle at the foot of Marti's statue before going to the Palace of Fine Arts where the exposition is housed.

A few minutes later the students arrived to place their own wreath, and the riot ensued. One student was grazed by a bullet. The veteran Soviet revolutionary received an ovation once the violence ended and he launched into his speech. Mikoyan gave the usual party line about Communist superiority.

A great aid to Mikoyan's salesmanship was the Cuban government announcement that the Soviet Union has bought 21½ million dollars worth of Cuban sugar.

Oil in Range Ignites

City firemen were dispatched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Every, 66 Newkirk Avenue, at 4:55 p. m. Friday after oil in a range ignited. Engine 1 and Truck 1 from Central Station responded to the call and on arrival they learned the fire had been extinguished by Mrs. Every with water. Cornell Hose Co. No. 2 and the Salvage unit responded to the alarm. No fire damage was reported. Firemen said oil in the combination range evidently accumulated in the bottom and when Mrs. Every went to light the stove the oil ignited.

The local post will seek the cooperation of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, the Governor Clinton Hotel and all local members to work out arrangements for presenting the bid to this year's convention. State Commander Gus Polito has assured local officials of his full support in the event the local post decides to bid for the parley.

A full discussion on the proposal will be held at the next meeting of the local post.

The post is currently making final preparations for its annual dance Saturday, Feb. 13, at Governor Clinton Hotel at 9 p. m. Edward Miller and William Teasdale are co-chairmen of the event.

Johnson Will Not Seek Democrat Nomination

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson created a stir at the Western Democratic conference with word he will not seek the presidential nomination.

In fact, he said, he couldn't say whether he'd accept the bid if it came to him at the party's Los Angeles national convention in July.

The Texas senator outlined his position at a news conference Friday on his arrival to address Democrats from 13 Western states. He has 271 of the 761 votes needed to win the nomination.

A year ago in Albuquerque, Johnson was reminded, he had said he was not a candidate. Had he changed his mind? No, he hadn't.

Would he accept the nomination? "He'll make that decision at the time it happens—if it happens," he said.

The Senate majority leader was definite on this point: "I will not seek the nomination."

Johnson coupled his announcement with statements attempting to refute assertions that he's a conservative and, as such, he doesn't stand a chance for the presidential bid.

Those views were expressed by Paul Ziffren, anti-Johnson Democratic national committeeman from California. Ziffren, talking with newsmen, predicted a candi-

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Abraham Lincoln lived in faith. At Springfield, his home town, he voiced his reverence for Christ's commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart... and thy neighbor as thyself." Leaving Springfield for Washington, he said "Without the assistance of that Divine Being... I cannot succeed. With that assistance, I cannot fail." En route, he said, "I shall be happy indeed, if I shall be a humble instrument in the hands of the Almighty..."

In Washington he prayed daily and called prayer "talking with God." There, he was not afraid to stand and face the struggle of the Union, or to kneel for strength. Although he liked the idea of those who prayed "not to be heard of men", he is known to have knelt alone and with others in prayer, and to have asked, "Pray that I may have strength and wisdom."

In a tribute to Lincoln, David Lloyd George said: "He is one of those giant figures, of whom there are very few in history... They are no longer Greek or Hebrew or English or American—they belong to mankind."

Junior choir, under the direction of John Sandeen will sing "Wonderful Words of Life." Awards will be presented to 10 young people who are memorizing Scripture under the Bible Memory Association. Those receiving awards are Carol Cart, Steve Cart, Judy Allen, Rodger Allen, Jeanette Sadler, Hamilton Sadler, Ruth Finch, Sharon Finch, Peter Finch and Steve Vining. The evening service is entitled "Haman and His Gallows."

Church Cabinet will meet Tuesday 7:30 p. m., at the home of Roland Niece, Sawkill Road. The mid-week service and choir rehearsal will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Ballantine, Esopus Avenue. The prayer service will be held at 7:30 p. m. The choir will rehearse at 8:45 p. m.

The Mary and Martha Ladies Fellowship will hold a work holiday, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Fred Brinkman, Hurley, beginning at 10 a. m. The ladies will sew uniforms for a mission school in Africa.

The hymn will be "I Love Thy Church." The choir, under the direction of Herman LaTour, will sing "While He Walks With Me" by Johnson, Scholl Trodler will play a clarinet solo, "Onward Christian Soldiers" by Bradbury.

The pastor will speak on the theme, "The Good and Evil in Terms of the End."

THE DISPOSAL PROBLEM

A recent news release has reminded us of the fact that "one of the biggest problems of the atomic age is how to get rid of waste products from nuclear reactors." Where to dump the stuff so that it will not jeopardize all life in general and human lives in particular—that is the momentous question. Some of this waste, we are told, will be radioactive for thousands of years to come. At present we are depositing it in sealed containers in 1000 fathoms of water off the east coast. But many feel this is not entirely safe. And probably most scientists would admit that this is only a temporary arrangement; and that ultimately some better, safer method of disposal must be found. It used to be that anything dumped in the briny deep was dispensed with, once for all. But not any more. We have stumbled upon some stuff that defies extinction. And its continued existence is a peril of ghastly proportions.

This new problem of an atomic age has its counterpart in a very old problem in the realm of the spirit. Getting rid of our animosities so that they do not upset, or ruin, our lives is one of the biggest problems we have. No person ever yet has lived on this planet who had the audacity to pretend that he had discovered a way to entertain hatred and nurse grudges—and still have peace of mind. There is an old proverb which says that when poverty comes in at the door, love flies out of the window. Love and poverty have a hard time trying to inhabit the same house. But hatred and happiness have it harder. In fact these latter are absolutely incompatible. Was it the great Lincoln who said that the only way really to get rid of an enemy is to make a friend out of him? There is no place to dump prejudices with any degree of success except in the great ocean of forgetfulness.

Another spirit problem is how to get rid of our fears—the ones that disrupt life and keep us frustrated all the time. Many folks in these days sleep (or try to) with skeletons under the bed. A dozen years ago a middle-aged woman patient in Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago confessed: "I am afraid of people, I am afraid of life, I am afraid of death; and God is an oblong blur on yonder horizon."

I have nothing to believe in or trust in, and my general rundown condition is an all-too-sad witness to that fact. I'm all out of gear with life." How we wish sometimes that we knew where we could dump all of the fears that only rob us of tranquility; but also of the ability to make something creative out of life. We cannot seem to find that place. Dropped in 1000 fathoms our fears wash up to plague us. And, what is more, often they return with a new brood that the relentless waves have hatched.

A long time ago the writer of the book of Proverbs said that "the fear (the word is really reverence) of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Some day scientists may discover a perfect way to dispose of radioactive materials so that they are rendered inert forever. And perhaps some day we shall wake up to the ageless truth that the only way to dispose of our fears is to put our trust in God and keep the conscience clear.

Seminar Slated For Methodist Clergy Feb. 29

Marriage Counseling will be the subject of two seminars for Methodist ministers Feb. 29 at Washington Street-Hedding Church, Poughkeepsie, and March 1 at First Methodist Church, Newburgh. They are sponsored by the New York Conference committee on family life of which the Rev. Herman L. Kuster of Beacon is chairman.

Principal speaker at 10:15 a. m., at both sessions will be the Rev. William Henry Genne, executive director of the department of family life, National Council of Churches, whose topic will be "Premarital Education and Counseling." His talk will be followed by a discussion of counseling methods by ministers.

Group studies will be made at 1 p. m. of counseling practices, earning and spending money, sex adjustment, in-laws and other relationships, constructive quarreling. Following group reports, a film, "One Love, Conflicting Faiths," will be shown. The Rev. Mr. Genne will lead a discussion on mixed marriages. The Rev. Mr. Genne was educated at Yale Divinity and the University of Chicago and for six years was on the staff of the Clara Elizabeth Fund for Maternal Health in Flint, Mich. He has held classes for students at Michigan State, Alfred and Pacific Universities and is the author of "Husbands and Pregnancy."

Rules for Rights In Religion Are Outlined by UN

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations has come up with a set of 16 rules or basic principles for safeguarding man's right to be a believer or non-believer in religion.

They could be the basis for an international treaty designed to protect such rights.

The principles were drafted by Arcot Krishnaswami, a scholarly Indian lawmaker, after more than three years of study authorized by a 14-member U.N. subcommittee on prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities.

Result of 3-Week Session

They were examined exhaustively at a three-week session of the subcommittee just concluded here and put in final form for eventual consideration by the U.N. General Assembly.

One rule says parents or legal guardians shall have the prior right to decide upon the religion or belief in which their child should be raised.

In the case of a child who has been deprived of its parents, their expressed or presumed wish should be taken into account, but with the best interests of the child the guiding principle.

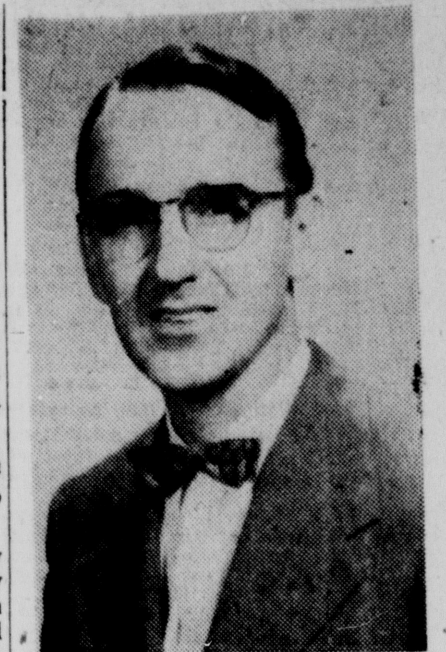

Another rule says no one should be compelled to receive religious or atheistic instruction contrary to his conviction, or in the case of children, contrary to the wishes of their parents or guardians. The rules call for taking due account of each religion or belief in respect to holidays or days of rest.

Serve as Experts

Members of the subcommittee served as experts and not as policy-making representatives. But the debate reflected policies of their individual homelands at times.

Mrs. Z.V. Mironova, the Soviet expert, objected at one point that Krishnaswami's report did not pay sufficient attention to discrimination against atheists.

Justice Philip Halpern of Buffalo, N.Y., the U.S. expert, declared the Soviet Union bars teaching of religion in private educational institutions, and he sought safeguards against such practices.

THE PUBLIC'S BUSINESS

Once more we are impelled to remind Mayor Radel that public business is the public's business. The people in delegating authority do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and how much of the city's business they should be told through the public press.

This basic principle of democracy was discussed in this column on a prior occasion when the present administration attempted to gag the press by denying reporters access to the police blotter. Now the mayor wants the Common Council to pass a law limiting information about local ordinances to be published in the press, which is the chief purveyor of the information needed to assure an informed public.

The proposed local law amending the charter of the city calls for an abstract of a new local law or ordinance to be published in the press with the full text being printed in booklets. We are unable to see how this scheme will bear out the intent of the statute to reach by publication all interested parties. Will the true purposes of the public notices be better attained this way than by publication in this newspaper, which goes into about every home in the city? We think not. To the contrary, the proposal could be an effective way of drawing down the black curtain of secrecy on public business—the people's business.

Local laws and ordinances are of true public concern and proper public interest and we still believe the people want to remain informed so that they may retain control over the instruments of government they created. Under the proposed scheme of the mayor would the public really be informed as to public business? Is this the most effective and economical way to reach people?

We must respectfully ask members of the Common Council to ascertain from the author of the proposed scheme some facts that he failed to mention in his communication to their august body, namely: How much it will cost to publish the booklets and how many will be published? Will the booklets be made available to the general public and how will they be distributed and at what cost? We believe the aldermen are entitled to this information for proper guidance.

We can share with the mayor his deep concern for the tax-burdened citizens of the community and we trust that now that his zeal has been aroused we can look forward to genuine economy and efficiency in local government. We not only could stand it, but we sure need it.

INSURANCE FOR TOMORROW

The basic differences between the American creed and the Communist creed is in the different attitudes toward people. Where we believe that the individual human is worthy of respect, an entity to be valued, communistic doctrines strive toward the supremacy. Lenin, the founder of the Soviet state, recognized that a doctrine of this caliber must be imbued early into the human mind or that human, in time, will work out a better plan for existence. Lenin said "Give us a child for eight years, and it will be a Bolshevik forever."

He came close to the truth as this age is the impressionable one. This is when the world is coming into focus in the young brain, and values, truths, and other basic foundations of future life are being determined.

At this age in America, our young people are forming those convictions through family environment, school training, religious education, and outside contact. That outside contact is usually the gang. And here is where a movement which this year is fifty years old, has offered guidance to some 33,000,000 Americans since 1910—the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting takes a boy's natural gang and converts it into a unit with uniforms, ad-

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
THE INTELLIGENTZIA

It is a free country and everybody can make his own definitions. In fact, many make their own rules and manage to avoid either jail or censure. How long it is possible to remain both free and confused is the question of the times. The CIA apparently believes that we have until 1964 when we shall be overtaken by the Russians. The San Francisco Beatniks, however, think that the end has already come, for some of their number have been deprived of the freedom of pushing narcotics. Otto Preminger, the movie man, sees no end to freedom, for he is able to hire Fifth Amendment Communists to do pictures for him without reprisals.

Thus it is all in the point of view. Larry Farsace of Rochester, New York, has a private definition for an intellectual which is: "... anybody who thinks, reflects, and weighs his facts carefully would be a candidate for the term intellectual. ..."

Sam Rosoff, the subway builder, who never went to school, would have made a remarkable intellectual, according to this definition. Frank Costello certainly thought, weighed his facts carefully and most of his life managed to keep out of jail thereby; until finally his errors caught up with him. However, neither Sam nor Frank would have regarded himself as an intellectual. I wonder if either of them knew who Aristotle or Michelangelo was.

Farsace says, "... Basically, anybody who thinks is an intellectual, not any set class or division. ..."

Who does not think? Thinking is more an involuntary than a voluntary process. The housewife who looks about her kitchen to make up her shopping list has to do some very high grade thinking. She has to organize her time, note her financial resources, balance her books, plan meals, take inventory of her requirements, and take advantage of any opportunity to save money. She is a dictator, small banker, hotel manager all wrapped in one.

Nobody would regard that as an especial intellectual activity, although it involves considerable thinking. In fact, probably the most difficult thought process of an entire lifetime is in the first grade of the primary school when a child has to learn to sit, what seems to be forever, on a hard seat and learn his letters. It is the beginning of real tough discipline. What the child learns then must stay with him forever. And the child has to learn how to think hard, right there, at that early point of his life.

The term, intellectual, is for an adult. It is more European than American, although it is coming into vogue here. In Europe, it was used in the 19th century to distinguish those who were educated from the peasantry. It is a term that originated in the medieval world when few could read or write and the clergy were a class apart because they could read. That was the test for a special class. The written word, throughout the European and Asiatic world, was regarded as sacred and a man who could both read and write stood out as important. In all countries, calligraphy was a great art and those who possessed the art were noted.

The French Revolution overthrew the special quality of the intellectual; the Russian Revolution restored it. Out of the French Revolution emerged the concept that one man is as good as another; out of the Russian Revolution has come the concept that the specialist is more valuable to the State.

This is no small matter, for what the Russians have thus far proved is that the mind can be made to work on intricate scientific matters without too much concern about the blood line. In fact, the Russians have created an aristocracy of intellectuals and have kept the peasants in their place. They reject equality altogether as unscientific, which it is. Our civilization tries, with increasing difficulty, to continue the doctrine of equality, which we call democracy. This is not proving to be a workable doctrine in the year 1960. Obviously, a member of Congress who cannot read a page of physics cannot intelligently vote on a military budget. He may sit with his mouth open in wonderment but he cannot think about the subject.

It is getting to be a tough world because there is too much to know and understand and the Farsaces of this country understand so little. (Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The Mature Parent

How We Admit Mistakes
Helps Us Rear Children

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Like others before her, nine-year-old Lynn often uses self-righteousness to hit you over the head.

For example, her mother will promise to get a new refill for Lynn's ball-point pen. Then, beset by the problems of downtown parking and Saturday afternoon marketing, she'll forget the promise. As she staggers into the kitchen with her heavy bags of weekend food, Lynn will appear. Before her exhausted parent has a chance to deposit them on the table she'll say, "Where's my pen refill, mother?"

Guilt will overwhelm her parent. Aware that "keeping promises" is one of the modern parent's commandments, she'll say apologetically: "Oh, I'm sorry, dear. I forgot it. I didn't remember it because I was so anxious to get home in all the traffic and ..."

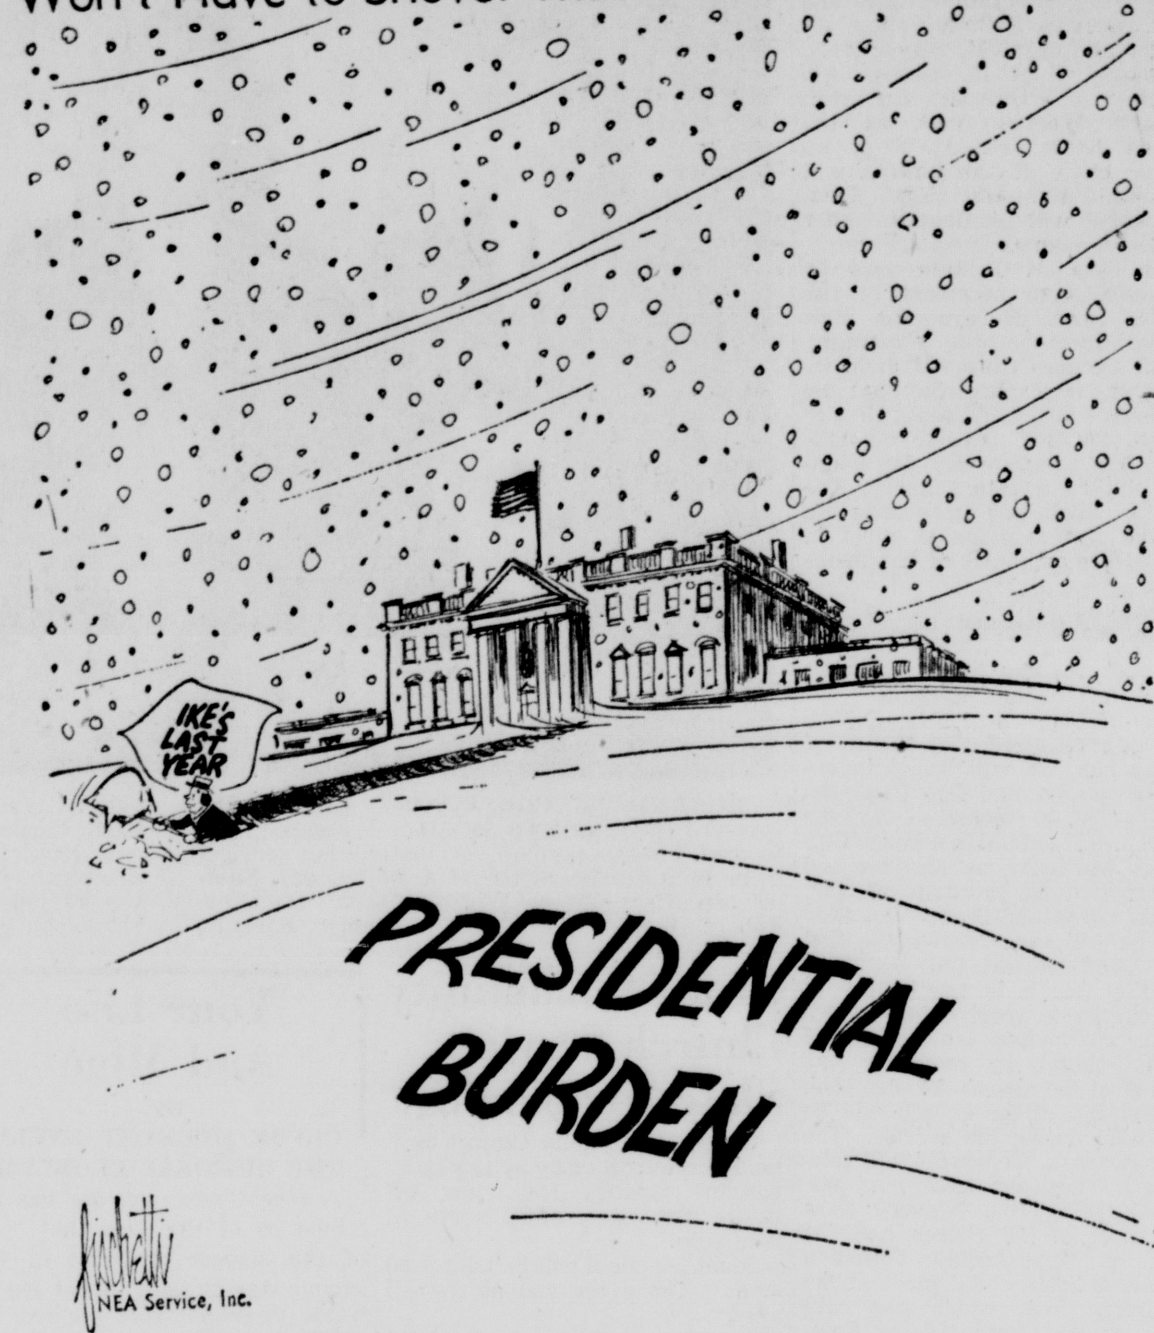

"I NEEDED that pen refill," Lynn will say severely. "I think it's awful when parents break promises to children. Why did you say you'd get it if you didn't mean it?" And with moral superiority stiffening her back, she'll march out of the kitchen.

Crushed, feeling herself a worm, her mother will think, "The child is right. I shouldn't have made the promise unless I knew I could keep it." And let Lynn get away with her moral superiority.

Which of course, Lynn doesn't possess. Like her mother, Lynn, too, forgets promises occasionally. And needs to be casually and cheerfully reminded of this fact without the condemnation with which she judges others' weaknesses.

Because children do not really enjoy moral superiority. They don't want to be paragons of goodness, but they do want to feel free to indulge their own weaknesses occasionally.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A jester handed a blank check to millionaire New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller while he was hurriedly signing autographs at the Republican fund raising dinner. The governor smiled, shook the man's hand and returned the check—unsigned.

SOON AFTERWARDS—Rockefeller told this story: Six shipwreck victims were dismayed when a rescue boat turned out to be big enough for only five of them. One man, however, finally volunteered to stay in the water. "Can you float alone?" his friend asked. "Of course I can," the man answered. "But this is a heck of a time to be talking about money."

A BARTENDER at the Republican wingding demonstrated a unique technique for serving drinks in a hurry. First he loaded the bar with glasses. Then he emptied a large ice bucket on top of them. Using both hands, he spread the ice cubes over the glasses until each one was filled. The bartender estimated the system to be 10 to 12 times faster than filling each glass separately. Guests were certain that it's at least 20 times noisier.

P-TA Sends 6-Point Proposal On Local School Problems To OCS Board of Education

A six-point program relating to certain school problems in Woodstock has been forwarded to the Ontario Central Schools Board of Education by a special committee appointed by the Woodstock Parent Teacher Association.

The proposals drafted by a seven-person committee were unanimously adopted by a vote after they had been read at the monthly P-TA meeting Thursday at the Woodstock school.

Mrs. John Bertschy, wife of the chairman of the committee, read the letter in his absence. Other members of the committee were: Mrs. Victor Allen, Chester Baccardi, Mrs. John Bertschy, Loryne B. Connick, Thomas Horsey Jr. and Mrs. James W. Kinns.

The letter to the Ontario Board said the problems outlined were "of immediate concern to every resident of this school district. As a result of decisions reached at this committee meeting, we are transmitting the following recommendations to you:

1) That a voting place for the Woodstock Elementary school district be established in Woodstock prior to the 1960 annual school meeting and election date that this place be used permanently.

2) The voting and annual meeting time be changed from July to May for all forthcoming elections to coincide with the time established elsewhere throughout the state.

3) That the surtax of both the Woodstock and West Hurley schools be shared by the entire Ontario Central School Districts and, to this end, that a referendum so stating be submitted to the voters as soon as possible.

Plans on Addition
4) That a copy of the plans for an addition to the Woodstock Elementary School (which plans were shown to the voters in 1957) be obtained and reconsidered at this time.

5) That a referendum be held calling for an addition of at least nine (9) rooms to the Woodstock Elementary school. Same to be held as soon as possible. And that immediate steps be taken to design and put up for bond issue vote an addition to the Woodstock Elementary school of a sufficient size to accommodate those students anticipated five years from this date.

6) That this committee representing the Woodstock Elementary school P-TA desires to cooperate closely with the Ontario Central Schools Board of Education; serving particularly in maintaining liaison between the Board and the voters, in order to solve the major problem of obtaining additional classroom space in the Woodstock Elementary school as economically as possible for the taxpayers of the Ontario Central Schools District. And that the Ontario Board may add two members of its own choosing to this liaison committee if it so desires.

That these recommendations are respectfully submitted as an expression of our concern for the best interest of the entire district.

Other items on the P-TA agenda was a report by Mrs. Earl Jones, president, that the new coffee maker had arrived. Mrs. Jane J. Greene, chairman, of the proposed skating party, said plans had not been formulated. A suggestion she made relating to the sale of candies by the P-TA was adopted.

In the absence of Frank Hancock, chairman, Mrs. Allison Hansen reported that the nominating committee did not have a proposed slate of officers ready for the meeting. The committee was instructed to propose a slate between now and the March meeting. The other member of the committee is Ann Hefty.

Program Change
Henry Miller, chairman of the program committee, announced that Dr. Walter Crewson, assistant commissioner of education, would be unable to keep his speaking engagement for the March meeting. In its place a forum at which the teachers will meet the parents will be held, Miller said.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Alan Albrecht for conducting the cake sale which netted $21.50 to the P-TA.

The resignation of Rita Hancock as associated editor of the P-TA News was announced. Mrs. Jones said she would appoint a replacement, unless someone volunteered for the job.

Mrs. Jones alerted the membership to submit nominations for the annual Jenkins Memorial Award, which will be presented at the April meeting. The award is given annually to a member of the community who has a record of continuous service for and in behalf of the youth of the community.

William H. Deming, supervising principal of the Ontario Central District, commented briefly on the question of whether or not the Woodstock school will be a kindergarten-through-fourth grade school next year.

Principal Deming pointed out that the education law requires that Woodstock maintain a K-6 status for a period of five years after annexation. This can be changed only by popular referendum. Deming said decision on the referendum will be made at the Feb. 15 meeting of the Ontario Board of Education.

Deming said the Ontario board has been considering a plan to make Woodstock a K-4 school next year. He said the most compelling reason for such a change was the desire of the Board to have the smaller pupils travel the least possible distance to school every day.

Former Woodstocker
Succumbs at Albany
Frank C. Kinns, a former Woodstock resident and father of James W. Kinns, died last weekend in Albany. He resided in Hudson.

Besides his son, James, he leaves his wife, Eva Kinns, and another son, Major Wilmont Kinns of Fort Campbell, Ky.; and five grandchildren. Mr. Kinns was a printer by trade.

Overlook Home Unit
Meets on Wednesday
Overlook Home Demonstration Unit will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 10 at 8 p. m. at the home of Connie Roman. A film on cancer will be shown, followed by a talk by a doctor.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested may attend. Members are urged to bring a friend. Hostesses for the evening will be Louise Wolven and Margo Balmer. Election of officers will also take place.

Residents Are Urged
To Keep Rink Rules
To keep the skating rink at Recreation Field in good condition is not an easy task. Members of the Recreation Committee work long and hard in their efforts to provide the maximum skating time that present facilities afford.

All persons can greatly assist the committee by observing the no-skating signs placed at the entrance to the Recreation Field. It really takes the cooperation of all persons to keep the skating rink in good order.

Girl Scout Troop 74
Work Toward Badges
Girl Scouts of West Hurley 74 have been diligently working toward their badges. On Jan. 26, Dr. Elizabeth Collins, Kingston veterinarian, attended their meeting, where she gave the girls pointers which will assist them in earning their dog and cat badges.

A cake sale was held at the West Hurley school on January 30 to raise money for a supper in the near future. This will get the mothers out of the kitchen for an evening, give the fathers a chance to glow with pride, and provide the girls with a feeling of great accomplishment.

Non-Property Tax Proposal Cited For School Areas

SCHOHARIE, N. Y. (AP)—The Republican state chairman says no new state taxes would be necessary if approval were given Gov. Rockefeller's plan to allow local school districts to levy non-property taxes.

It would be "financially imprudent and politically impossible" to impose more state taxes, GOP chieftain L. Judson Morhouse said Friday night at the annual Lincoln Day dinner of the Schoharie County Republican Committee.

The Republican governor has proposed two systems of new local taxation for schools. One would allow school districts to levy a 10 per cent tax on telephone service, if Congress drops the federal telephone tax. The other would enable groups of school districts to federate and impose non-property taxes.

Morhouse said Rockefeller's plan would permit local school districts that need more money to raise extra revenue without subjecting everyone to a state tax increase and without increasing local real estate taxes.

The GOP chairman also accused Democrats of playing "petty politics" with the welfare of school children by calling for increased state aid to education and at the same time demanding a cut in state taxes and opposing transfer of the federal telephone tax to local school districts.

Buyers got some good news when wholesale food prices dropped sharply. The Dun & Bradstreet index representing the total cost of one pound each of 31 foods in general use stood at $3.76, down from $3.90 last week and $6.19 a year ago.

Another welcome development was agreement by the railroad industry and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to submit their wage dispute to binding arbitration. This wiped out the prospect of a strike.

Good, Steady Growth

In Washington, Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller said business got off to a good start in January and that the country is enjoying "good, steady, consistent growth."

Economists appearing before the congressional Joint Economic Committee agreed with President Eisenhower's estimate that national production will increase to $110 billion dollars from 1959's $78 billion.

Briefly around the business scene: Heavy construction contract awards this week climbed to $377,400,000 from $245,200,000 last week. Directors of 145 companies voted higher dividends in January; in January 1959 the number was 101. Movie attendance so far this year is running 10 per cent ahead of a year ago.

was referred to the grand jury.

According to police, a telephone operator told them at 3:13 a. m. that someone called her and said police were wanted in front of Smith's home. Detectives Slover and Ellsworth and Patrolmen Joseph Kivlan and Otto Short went to the scene.

Fatum's ambulance was summoned and Smith was taken to the hospital. Police said he suffered cuts of the right shoulder and other injuries. Police said the defendants were accused of "punching Smith" and "stomping on him while he was on the ground."

Magazine Opposes Catholic President

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Protestant magazine has come out against a Roman Catholic as president, saying "the Vatican does all in its power to control the governments of nations, and in the past and present it has often succeeded."

A candidate may announce, and even sincerely believe, that he is immune to Vatican pressure," said the biweekly Christianity Today in an editorial. "But can we be sure that he will not succumb in the confessional booth to threats of purgatory and promises of merit from the organization which he believes to hold the keys of heaven?"

Christianity Today, published here, says it has the largest circulation—160,000—of any journal of the Protestant ministry.

The magazine did not mention any presidential candidates in the unsigned editorial. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), an active aspirant for the Democratic nomination, is a Roman Catholic.

Johnson Will Not

date from the "liberal pole" would be chosen to lead the 1960 Democratic ticket.

Johnson replied that every fellow has a right to his opinion but that labels didn't interest him. Asked whether he'd concede he didn't belong to the party's liberal wing, he proceeded to note that he first went to Congress on a progressive platform and challenged critics to examine his record.

As Senate majority leader, the Texan said he had helped Senate passage to repeal the poll tax, enact a clean election bill, and vote federal funds for school construction.

Predicts Reasonable CR

He predicted approval of a "reasonable and effective" civil rights bill, a good public works bill, and a farm bill.

In both his news conference and a speech at a reception, Johnson assailed the Eisenhower administration and Republican political philosophy.

He said that basically the Republicans have offered a policy of "can't do or won't do" against the "can do" of the Democratic party.

Elsewhere at the conference there was a considerable buzz among delegates over word that California's Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown had decided against coming here.

Brown previously had proposed that the Democrats form a Western bloc at the national convention. The suggestion was vetoed by Democratic governors at a regional conference several months ago in San Valley, Idaho.

Staff members representing Brown here said frankly the governor was upset by interpretations that he sought to organize Western support for his own candidacy and for that reason had decided not to attend the Albuquerque gathering.

Brown has since said he intends to run strictly as a favorite son in California.

Three Lose Lives In Plane Crash; Impaled on Tree

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two men were killed and a third fatally injured when a light plane crashed in mid-San Francisco Friday night, impaling itself on a eucalyptus tree.

The injured man, Joseph Pardo, about 34, of Redwood City, was trapped in the smashed wreckage 10 feet above the ground for eight hours before he died. It was another hour before city firemen could get the body free.

Killed instantly in the crash were Anthony Kirsiniagi, 27, of Santa Clara, the pilot and father of two; and John Drew, 24, of Redwood City.

The trio was returning from working at a housing tract near punching Smith and stomping on him while he was on the ground.

Finch Trial

Barbara to get home.

"Barbara, we'd like to talk to you," Finch said he told her. "Well, you're not going to," she replied.

"I sort of took a look at Carole and then looked back at Barbara, turned a gun in her hand pointed at Carole. She held it in both hands, charged into her."

They fought wildly, the tennis-playing physician said. He said he tried to get the pistol away.

"I didn't want either of us to get shot, that's all," he said. "Everything was bang bang bang—everything was so quick."

Barbara screamed. Finch heard running footsteps. "I thought it was Marie Ann coming with the rifle. I thought he shot."

He said he wrested the pistol away and hit his wife on the head, trying to knock her out. Then he rushed Miss Lidholm as she entered the doorway and banged her head against the wall.

Blood led him to think Barbara had a skull fracture and he must take her to the hospital, but first he wanted to find Carole.

Finch said his wife, still conscious, seized the gun and it discharged once on the door as she and her husband fought again.

Moments later Mrs. Finch fled. "I thought Carole was outside and Barbara was there with the gun—I've got to help her," he testified.

He couldn't find Carole. But he found his wife. He said they grappled once more, and the weapon discharged.

Sheriff Reports

with 213 males and 18 females being confined for that offense.

Disorderly conduct comes second with 94 males and 14 females being confined.

These in turn are followed by petit larceny with 61 males and 3 females, closely with 57 males and 3 females being confined to jail, burglary, third degree comes along with 37 males.

62 Speeders Jailed

Traffic violations bring a large number of those received in jail. Driving while intoxicated brought 48 males and one female to jail while unlicensed operators of motor vehicles accounted for 44 males and 26 females being lodged in jail.

Speeding was accountable for 34 males and 28 females being jailed.

Violations of the Conservation Law was responsible for 15 males being lodged in jail.

Of the 44 lodged in jail as unlicensed operators, 26 were convicted and sentenced to jail. Of the 34 charged with speeding and lodged in jail, 28 were convicted and sentenced to jail.

Only 10 of the persons lodged in jail on charges of driving while intoxicated were convicted and sentenced to jail after conviction.

1,051 Males in Jail

The statistics indicate that of the 1,051 males received in jail, 504 of them were sentenced to jail after being convicted and of the 62 females who were received in jail there were 10 sentenced to terms in jail after conviction.

Terms in jail varied from those who were retained only a day or two to one who served over 251 days. While "thirty days in jail" is frequently referred to as the usual sentence for minor offenses, this was not true in Ulster County. There were only 21 who served this sentence.

Those sentenced to terms in jail were 26 who received upwards of 100 days.

Early Age Is Concern

While the number of persons committed to the Ulster County Jail is increasing annually, the number in 1959 being greater than the previous year, the thing which troubles many citizens is the early age in which jail becomes real to many.

From 16 years up to 21 years of age comes the greater number of those lodged in jail. After 21 the number gradually drops down.

Admitted to the Ulster County Jail during 1959 were 25 males of age 16. In the 17 year group was 31 males and 5 females; 50 males in the 18 year group and one female; 37 males and three females in the 19 year age group; 57 males and three females in the 20 year age group; 50 males and one female in the 21 year group and then the number drops to 39 males in the 22 year age group, with a gradual drop in the number beyond that age to the 35 year group which bounds back to 38 males and three females with a drop off again after that age.

Some "Professionals"

Under the occupation table there were 14 males and one female listed as "professional" admitted to jail; 18 males and two females in the "semi-professional" group; 14 male proprietors in their own business; 11 males in supervisory capacity; 18 males in the skilled craftsmen classification; 14 salesmen; 57 males and 4 female clerical; 59 males and 25 female service workers; 44 male and 3 female students; other laborers account for 648 males and 26 females while 15 males and one female had "no occupation." Nine service men were also received in jail.

There were 396 married men and 30 married women received in jail with an additional 16 common law wives being involved. Single unmarried men accounted for 541 persons and there were 19 widowed persons. Of the total admitted to jail 100 men were divorced and 11 women divorced. The majority of those admitted to jail had only a grade school education.

417 Out-of-Staters

As to residence, 595 were residents of New York state and 417 were residents of other states. From the territory of Puerto Rico came 53 males and two females who were lodged in jail. Only 46 of those admitted to jail were foreign born. Ireland led with 8, Germany came second with 8, Canada followed with 5, Hungary, Norway and Russia accounted for three each; Poland, Scotland and British West Indies accounted for two each with Belgium, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, England, France, Greece, Holland and Sweden one each.

Never attending school was 26 males and all of those admitted to jail were able to read and write.

Beacon Man Still Missing at Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The destroyer Daly headed here today with three of the five survivors of Thursday's disaster in which 10 sailors were swept from its decks by a gigantic swell.

Two others were rescued by the merchant tanker Alabama. Another man, not washed overboard, was killed. The fate of the missing five appeared sealed, but an air-sea search will continue, the Navy said, "until all possibilities have been exhausted."

The Daly, with two other destroyers, was heading for Norfolk to join the Reserve Fleet. It was making a high-speed run to see if any repairs were in order before mothballing. At top speed, it struck a huge swell about 200 miles off the Virginia coast and rolled over 65 degrees. The 10 sailors were swept away.

Among the missing was Fireman Nicholas A. Calcauca of Beacon, N. Y.

Avers New Ruling In Special Bill Disqualifies Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Lt. Gov. George B. De Luca says a special bill apparently designed to allow him to serve as a referee in Supreme Court actually disqualifies him.

The bill, filed in the State Senate by Sen. Nathaniel T. Helman (R-Bronx) does not specifically name De Luca. But it reads like a capsule biography of him.

It adds to the list of those qualified to referee "any person who has served not less than 38 years consecutively in state or municipal offices, including at least one term as lieutenant governor, one term as district attorney, and 19 years as a judge or justice of a court of record in a city of the first class."

De Luca, 70, said Friday night he meets all these requirements except one: His judicial career of 19 years was not spent in courts of record.

He was city magistrate from 1930 to 1937, associate justice of Special Sessions Court from 1937 to 1946, and chief justice of that court until 1949. Those courts are not courts of record in New York State.

"I may call him (Helman) and tell him about that," De Luca said.

Refused to Accept Natural Gas Price

OTTAWA (AP)—The National Energy Board has refused to accept as evidence a set of prices charged by the Consumers Gas Co. of Toronto, a distributor of natural gas.

The rates were to have been submitted Friday by the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. of New York State, which is trying to block an application of Niagara Gas Transmission Corp. for an export license.

Niagara Gas seeks permission to deliver gas to the St. Lawrence Gas Corp., which proposes to export gas from Canada to communities in northern New York. Both firms are subsidiaries of Niagara Gas.

It was the Consumers Gas rates that the National Energy Board refused to accept.

Niagara Mohawk also wants to supply natural gas in the Massena-Ogdensburg, N. Y., area.

BRIDGE

Stayman Bid Often Abused

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Stayman two-club convention is one of the finest in bridge and is used by every expert in America.

Basically, you respond with two clubs to your partner's opening no-trump, whereupon he will show a four-card major suit if he holds one.

Like any good thing the Stayman convention can be abused and there is no point in using it when you don't have to.

North has 11 high card points and after his partner opens with one no-trump North surely intends to get to game. He can simply raise to three no-trump or he can use the Stayman two-club to see if his partner holds four hearts.

The best man to know when to use a convention is the inventor and when Sam Stayman sat North in the National championships at Coronado he chose to raise to three no-trump. As Sam pointed out he did hold four hearts, but even if South held Needless to say, Sam's decision was correct. With the heart opening South managed to make five no-trump, but four no-trump was there against any lead.

Four hearts could be made also, but those declarers who bid it went down.

Terrace Living Is Now Growing In Popularity

A recent study of homemaker opinion shows that extra living space is the most desired item in home remodeling plans. No less than 15 per cent of the homemakers wanted a new outdoor terrace.

Only a few years ago the addition of a terrace was considered impractical by all except families with large budgets and ample landscape. Today, however, rising incomes, the increasing skill of the family handyman, and the modern emphasis on outdoor living are bringing the pleasures of outdoor terraces into focus for more families.

The Most Practical

Probably the most versatile and practical material to use for quality terrace installations is quarry tile, a rugged baked-clay material readily available today in a variety of sizes, colors and shapes.

Quarry tile is weatherproof and suitable for home terraces in all climates. Its colors will not fade with weathering. Eminent for its ease to keep clean, quarry tile is stainproof and waterproof, and summer furniture cannot scratch its permanent finish.

Most popular quarry color is red, but the cooler blues, greens and sand buff colors have been gaining increased popularity rapidly. Tile sizes to be used for any given terrace depend, of course, upon the over-all size of the terrace. Most popular size for an average terrace measuring, say, 10 by 20 feet is the six-inch square.

Near Shade Tree

Ideally, the terrace should be located near a shade tree. Adequate shade is even more important than nearness to the house. Privacy can be achieved with a cane fence. If the terrace is to be located adjacent to the house, there should be access to both the living room and the kitchen from the terrace.

Says N. Y., Jersey Lax on Control Of Surplus Items

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Accounting Office said today New York and New Jersey have failed to exercise proper control over the storage and distribution of surplus government property.

The charge was made by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell in a report to Congress on GAO's audit of the surplus property program.

Under law, Campbell said, each state is required to have only one agency responsible for distributing surplus property to institutions eligible to receive it.

But this is not the case in New York and New Jersey, Campbell said.

He added the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is negotiating with officials of both states in an attempt to bring their programs in line with federal laws.

In New York, Campbell said, surplus property is distributed from two warehouses by 51 area chairmen. Much of the property they distribute comes from a state surplus property agency.

The chairmen distribute the surplus personal property to schools, maintain warehouses or stores of property awaiting distribution to schools, and charge schools a service fee sufficient to cover the charge of the state agency and also their own costs of operations," the GAO report said.

Campbell added the state agency does not review the operations of the area chairmen nor does it require chairmen to report on their activities or to send copies of receipts taken for surplus property they deliver.

"The area chairmen seem to operate very much on their own," he declared.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—TV trends come and go, but the Nelson family seems to go on regardless.

The Ozzie and Harriet show is in its eighth year on the home screen. While the ratings are never stratospheric, the program continues to attract loyal sponsors and viewers.

Loyalty may be the keynote of the Nelson success. No other studio set in TV is quite like theirs. Everything is done in a quiet, courteous manner with an obvious devotion to the team effort.

"There's no scene-stealing among us," Harriet remarks. "If anything, each tries to give scenes to the other one."

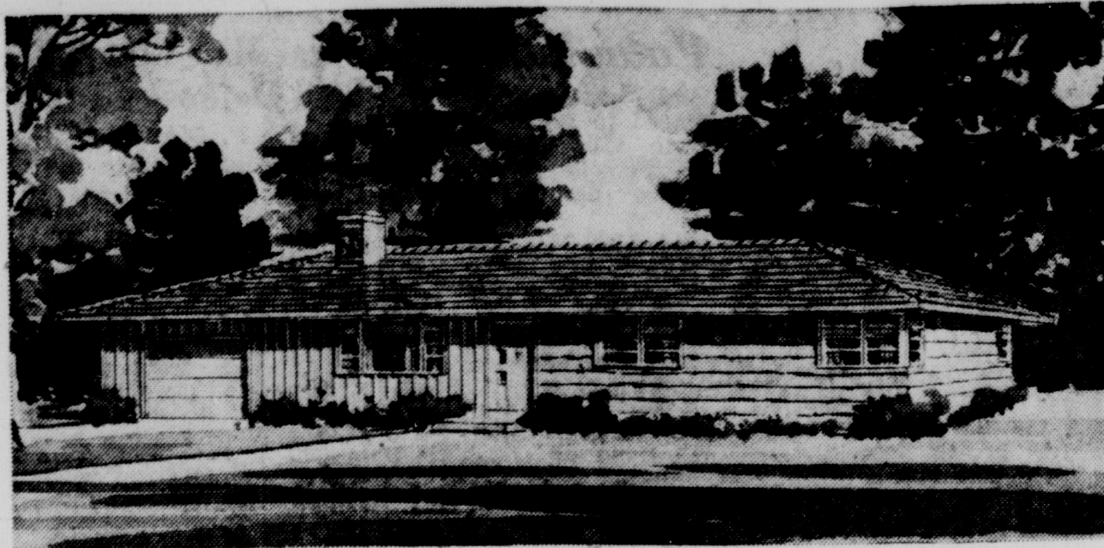

Ozzie, the one-man gang who acts, directs and oversees the works, bends every effort to see that all are treated fairly. He wants to be sure his sons' outside careers don't suffer because they are tied up with the show.

"David has been doing it since he was 11. Ricky since he was 8," said Ozzie. "They've been accustomed to this kind of life, and it's only natural that they would find more pride and satisfaction in doing other things. So we do everything we can to assure them freedom to do outside work."

This can mean serious dislocation of production. When either of the boys does a movie, the TV scripts have to be prepared far ahead. David or Rick does all his scenes ahead of time, then the rest of the cast catches up later.

For instance, Rick will be gone for two months, making "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" in Hawaii. Now he's racing through a number of TV shows so he can take off. So far, no Nelson has missed making an appearance in any of the shows.

Other than the valley areas, most of Syria receives about four inches of rain a year.

Many Features Offered Buyers In Compact Homes

By Gerry Bishop

One of the most discussed improvements in recent home design is the basement staircase located in the garage rather than in the house proper. Enthusiastically received by contractors, builders and architects, such an arrangement offers more to the buyer and has a distinct advantage if the property is ever offered for sale. As the plan shows considerably more room is made available for the living area.

The kitchen in The Vinegrove as designed by Associated Architects is of exceptional size. Including the dining area it measures 20 ft. 7 in. by 10 ft. 3 in. Always one of the most popular rooms in a house it can be used for informal entertaining, for snack parties and as a gathering place for the younger group. The dining area opens into a 4 ft. hall which leads to all points of the home.

Another feature of this compact house is the large living room which measures 13 ft. 9 in. by 15 ft. 9 in. An additional factor which contributes greatly to its charm is the modern fireplace. And for greater ease in entertaining it has a guest closet that faces the front entry.

Because the basement staircase is located out of the living area and in the garage instead of being placed in the conventional manner all of the bedrooms are of good size. Each has a large closet with sliding doors.

Basement Now Cheery Place

The compact, functional construction of today's space-economy home, designed to utilize every available foot of area for practical purposes to meet the needs of growing families, has transformed the basement into a location for the workshop of the do-it-yourself enthusiast.

It also includes the family laundry and a recreation room, complete with lounge chairs, a snack table and TV for the younger members of the family.

This arrangement provides for noise insulation of the play area from the more formal living areas of the home.

Realizing the powerful resale value of homes having a finished basement, builders are including tile floors, spacious windows, built-in laundry facilities and in many cases, a fireplace to add a cheery note to the recreation room.

For Lock Installation

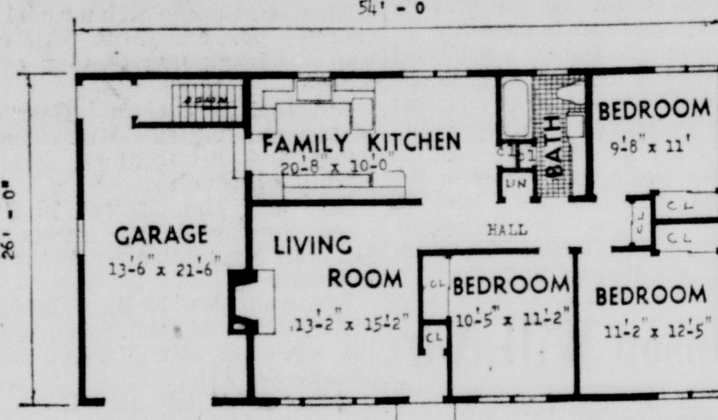

Installing a new set of door locks in your house? You may have trouble drilling because the drill will nearly always split the wood when it comes through. To prevent this stop drilling the second end of the bit comes through the other side. Then take the drill and complete the drilling from the other side.

Acceptable Gift

A shoe bag is always an acceptable gift and this can be made at home. One is appreciated more however, if the person making it puts an extra pocket on it to hold a soft cloth for dusting shoes before wearing them.

Elongated Jaw-Breakers

Full name of symphonic orchestra conductor Leopold Stokowski is Leopold Antoni Stanislaw Boleslawowicz Stokowski.

Planning at its best is evidence in the bedroom layout of square rooms with no jogs. The full, well appointed bath is conveniently arranged near the sleeping area.

The overall dimensions including the garage are 26 ft. by 54 ft. living area is 1,040 sq. ft.; the garage is 364 sq. ft.; and the cubage is 24,128 cu. ft.

The exterior shows a hip roof with a two (2) ft. overhang all around the 12-4 pitch. The left front has boards and batten for the body while cedar shingles are used for the rest of the house. All windows and doors are stock lumber yard items.

Plans also show framing detail for the alternate gable roof in the event you prefer to build with a gable instead of a hip roof.

Detail and section views for construction of the "Vinegrove" with full basement or construction without basement are shown in the plans. If the house is built without a basement the staircase area becomes Heater Room.

By using the accompanying coupon blueprints of this house can be obtained at moderate cost. "Plans show details on how to build with gable roof or hip roof."

Hauling Panels

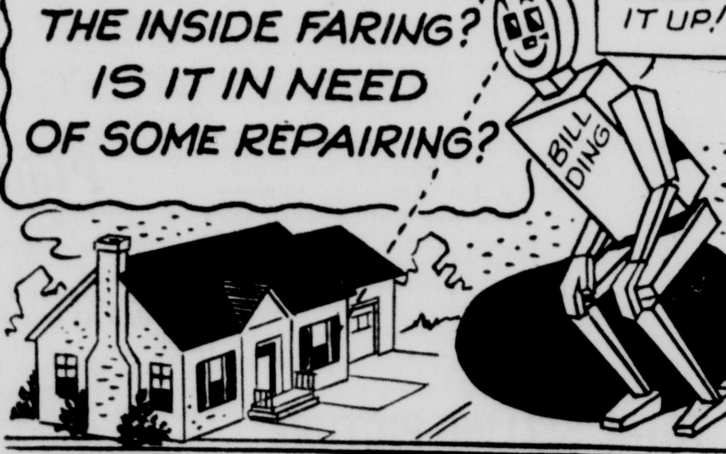

To haul plywood panels and other big pieces home from the lumberyard, try this trick: put folded pads of cloth on your car roof and lay the lumber on top of them. Now tighten two or three C-clamps onto the lumber. The clamps will not only hold the pieces together, if there are more than one, they will also provide eyes through which you can tie ropes to hold the lumber down.

Water Helps Farming

The general public may never have thought of it, but water is one of the many products derived from tree farming. Forest management principles play a big role in maintaining vitally important watersheds. Growing population demands increase in future water supplies, and sound tree farming practices are becoming more important than ever in meeting the need.

Dr. Shea Speaks To Hurley Group On Mental Health

Dr. Edward Shea, chairman of the Ulster County Mental Health Board, spoke Wednesday evening before the regular monthly meeting of the Parents Club of the Hurley School. Dr. Shea, under whose guidance the Mental Health Board of Ulster County came into being, spoke on Mental Health.

He noted that 50 years ago this year, Dr. Clifford Beers, following a mental breakdown of which he was cured, started the National Mental Health Organization "to help those least able to help themselves." During these 50 years, awareness of the mental health problem and techniques for meeting it successfully, have increased the number of patients in our mental hospitals far above those in our general hospitals but have also increased the number of patients who have been cured of mental illness by a very large per cent.

Statistics Quoted

Dr. Shea quoted present national statistics which show that one person in every ten is emotionally disturbed to a greater or lesser degree. Dr. Shea highlighted the percentage for Ulster County by pointing out that in the Kingston Consolidated School system alone, 700 children have been found who could benefit from mental therapy.

Although Ulster County got along well enough without a Mental Health Clinic, the fact that 178 patients have been treated since its opening in October 1958, proves the need was there waiting only for the facilities to deal with it, Dr. Shea said.

In connection with the mental health problem among school children, Dr. Shea said that special classes are already being conducted for those children of below average mentality, and plans are in the making for special classes for children who are emotionally disturbed.

Mental Health Board Duties

The Ulster County Mental Health Board, appointed by the Board of Supervisors and responsible to them, is composed of nine members as specified by law. Dr. Shea, who is the chairman, said the aims of the board are to keep individuals out of mental institutions, to provide diagnosis and treatment for individuals who need it, to carry on research, and to conduct an educational program in mental health.

From their somewhat crowded quarters in the Tumor Clinic building, a staff of two psychiatrists and two psychiatric social workers under the direction of Dr. Morris Greenhill, have handled the heavy case load at the clinic since 1958, with only three out of all the cases having to be hospitalized. Plans for converting the entire upper floor of the Tumor Clinic Building for the use of the Mental Health Clinic are under way.

Before Dr. Shea spoke, Dr. Harry McNamara, president of the Parents Club, conducted a short business meeting during which plans were made for a fund-raising card party to be held in March and a Coach House Players matinee for children in April. Mrs. Barbara Burnett's kindergarten won the attendance award.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Locations of nine proposed underground missile launching sites in the Plattsburgh, N. Y., area were disclosed today by the Air Force.

Swanton, 22 miles northeast of Plattsburgh in Franklin County, Vt.

Albany, 22 miles north northeast of Plattsburgh in Grand Isle County, Vt.

Champlain, 21 miles north of Plattsburgh in Clinton County, N. Y.

Movers Forks, 22 miles north northwest of Plattsburgh in Clinton County.

Clayburg, 20 miles west southwest of Plattsburgh in Clinton County.

Au Sable Forks, 20 miles southwest of Plattsburgh in Clinton County.

Willboro, 24 miles south of Plattsburgh in Essex County.

The Air Force released $43,700,000 Thursday for construction of the base which is expected to take two years to complete.

At the time of its original announcement the Air Force said the launching sites would be in Clinton and Essex Counties, N. Y., and Franklin and Grand Isle Counties, Vt.

The missile base will be manned by 700 Air Force personnel.

It is expected that as many local merchants as possible will participate in this years show. Due to limited space it will be impossible to include exhibits from all, but it is anticipated that this will become an annual affair. Next year expanded facilities will make it possible to include all merchants wishing to participate, a committee spokesman said. In addition to fashions, the settings will include fine China, lamps, radios and other merchandise sold at local stores.

Tickets will go on sale in the near future.

The state of officers will be presented by John Holibaugh, nominating committee chairman at the next meeting, Feb. 18.

Harry Greenberg, W2MSQ of Ellenville, an engineer with Channel Master Inc., Ellenville will speak on antennas relating to the amateur. Some of the club members have heard Greenberg address the Ellenville amateur Radio Club and recommend the talk very highly. A question and answer period will follow the presentation. Refreshments will be served.

Holibaugh, K2YRY, demonstrated a recently constructed two-meter receiver that was built mainly around a continuous tuning Mallory tuner he bought at the club auction three weeks ago. The receiver had very broad reception but a circuit to improve the selectivity of the receiver will soon be added, and the results shown at a later club meeting.

Copies of the questionnaire circulated to all radio amateurs in Ulster County have been returning with very encouraging results. Anyone who still has their copy is urged to complete it and send it into the club as soon as possible so the programming for the balance of the year may be completed.

Inviting Acquaintances

Dear Mrs. Post: Could I be misunderstood as a "pusher" in a following instance? There are many women whom I have met in the past year at the afternoon parties of our mutual friends. While these women have never asked me to their houses, they are very friendly. May I ask them, and their husbands, whom I do not know, to a large cocktail party which my husband and I will give soon?

Answer: It is entirely a question as to how you feel about them. If you feel that you know them at all well, you may quite properly invite them to a large cocktail party.

Discarding Second Marriage Name

Dear Mrs. Post: How wrong would it be for my mother to go back to her first marriage name? She was married many years to my father and several years after he died she married again but this marriage lasted only a year or so.

Answer: The propriety of this maneuver depends upon the motive. When the first husband's name is taken back because it was a prominent one, there is small excuse. But when a woman dearly loved her first husband and was very unhappy with her second, it is natural that she would want to take back her first husband's name—especially if it is the name of her children.

Man Should Go First

Dear Mrs. Post: I notice that so often on a bus a man will wait a moment for the woman sitting with him to start to the door ahead of him. I'm sure this is not best manners. Isn't it more polite for him to go first so he can help off the bus?

Answer: Yes. This is one of the occasions when a gentleman precedes a lady in order to make way for her through the crowded aisle. He then gets off the bus and turning offers her his hand.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflets, E-6, entitled, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Scout Program Is Discussed at Kiwanis Meeting

The Golden Jubilee year of scouting and the progress of the movement in the local Rip Van Winkle Council was the subject of a talk Thursday at the Kingston Kiwanis Club by Alex MacDonald, Scout Executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Congratulating the Kiwanis Club and its members for their participation in the scouting movement, Scout Executive MacDonald revealed that over 31 million boys and men had participated in the Boy Scouts of America since its inception in 1910.

He spoke of the ideals of the Scout Oath and Law, and said that the Kiwanis Clubs around the world were "the finest partners of Scouting."

"There are more than 50 different roles in scouting for adult scouters," said the speaker who remarked that the popular conception of a man being just a scoutmaster or cubmaster was in error. He further emphasized that one of the factors "that makes scouting great" is the action of 1,100 volunteers of the Rip Van Winkle Council who work along with two professionals to give the local boys the proper scouting program.

Mrs. Franklin Hazard has been appointed by the president to head the new Escort Service which will be introduced soon as another of the Auxiliary's services in the hospital. Plans are being formulated and anyone desiring to help with the new program is asked to call Mrs. Hazard.

Mrs. William Cranston, chairman of the spring dance to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on April 23, reported that she is forming a committee now and that further details will be announced.

Poughkeepsie Halts Kingston High, 55-47, in DUSO Tilt

By ED PALLADINO

Freeman Sports Staff

Bob Boschen, Jimmy Gordon and Steve Albrecht, Poughkeepsie High School's trio of cage stars, all but ruined the pennant hopes of Kingston High as they led the Pioneers to a 55-47 verdict at the Bridge City court before more than 1,500 spectators.

The win shoved Poughkeepsie into a first place tie with Monticello in the snarled DUSO standings. Kingston dropped into a tie with Newburgh Free Academy for the third spot.

The standings:

Team	W	L
Poughkeepsie	7	2
Monticello	7	2
Kingston	8	3
Newburgh	8	3
Liberty	6	5
Middletown	4	5
Ellenville	4	6
Port Jervis	1	8
Fallsburgh	0	11

This was probably the most crucial contest of the season for both clubs and the hosts delighted the huge audience with their win.

Boschen was superb during the first half. Gordon ruined Kingston in the second half and Albrecht did a tremendous job on both backboards in addition to scoring several vital baskets.

The locals led three times all evening and only during the first quarter. The last lead came when Joe Uhl scored a layup with 2:30 remaining in the period. That made it 11-10. By the end of the first eight minutes of action, the score was knotted, 13-13.

Ahead for Good

Boschen, a magnificent outside shooter, put his club ahead for keeps at the start of the second period with a tap from underneath. Then Albrecht, and Boschen combined for six more fast points and within the first minute of the second period, PHS had a 21-13 lead. Kingston never recovered.

After walking off the floor at halftime with a 34-24 lead, the home side faltered in the third quarter and the locals made a gallant attempt to pull the contest out of the fire.

Two straight buckets by Gary Barnes, midway through the stanza sliced the margin to 39-34. After Albrecht hit with a foul for the winners, Uhl counted with a free toss and then went in for a driving layup. Harry Pratt's foul point made it 40-38, and the huge Kingston delegation started to voice its approval.

KHS Rallyes

Gordon threw in the first of his several key baskets at this stage with a long jumper from behind the foul circle. After Uhl counted with one for KHS, Gordon hit with a basket 30 seconds from the end of the period to make the scoreboard read, 44-40, after three quarters.

Al Brown fouled out in the first 25 seconds of the fourth quarter but John Kelly kept the Kingston hopes alive with a driving layup to slice the margin to 40-38. The Maroon players never came any closer.

Ty Elting was successful with a jumper from the left side, Albrecht hit with one from the corner and Gordon came through again with a long one from about 30 feet out. This made it 50-42, with 5:30 left.

Poor Finish

Kelly made a deuce and Uhl a foul shot for the KHS players and it was 50-45 with four minutes to play. The locals could muster but two points for the rest of the evening and they came on a one hander by Uhl with 30 seconds left.

Gordon's jumper and Albrecht's two foul successes opened the gap to nine points, 54-45, in the closing stages after the Pioneers missed four straight free throws.

The importance of this contest is clearly shown in the standings. Poughkeepsie has two of the other contenders—Newburgh and Monticello—to meet at the Bridge City. The Pioneers still have to travel to Liberty.

Monticello has Kingston at home and plays at Poughkeepsie and Newburgh. The Goldbacks play host to Kingston at the Hilly City and are also home against Monticello. But Coach Joe Gaspard's club has to play at Poughkeepsie on Tuesday.

CAGE CHATTER—Uhl had 17 points and a like amount of rebounds to pace Kingston . . .

The locals took only 46 shots and made 19 of them for a good 42 per cent from the floor. . . Boschen, who had 18 points in the first half, finished with 21 for the home side. Two of his deuces were of the unbelievable type . . . Gordon, the best looking backcourt performer in the circuit, had 19 points and was just tremendous as an all-around performer . . . Albrecht added 11 points and kept the Maroon players away from the offensive boards, a big reason why the locals could manage to take just 46 shots . . . Kelly scored 10 markers for the locals and did the defensive job on Boschen the second half.

Defeat Drops Sawyers Into 2nd in DCSL

If Saugerties High coach Buddy Smith had a sleepless night, who can blame him? The elusive DCSL crown, which his charges had apparently clinched before the holidays, was torn from their grasp last night at the Sawyers' gym as Roosevelt Central scored a notable 51-49 triumph.

Inability to make fouls was the chief cause of the Saugerties downfall. The Sawyers connected only three times in 17 attempts with Arlington scoring a win at Wappingers, the league standings now read like this:

	W	L
Arlington	6	1
Saugerties	5	2
Roosevelt	4	2
CFMA	1	5
Beacon	1	6

Barry Wolven returned to action last night and contributed 13 points to the cause. However, the Sawyers just didn't have enough. They blew a six point margin during a frantic fourth period as the visitors pulled the game from the fire.

Big Robby Williams, who had only two points in a losing cause against Saugerties early in the season, had 17 last night and did a bangup job on the backboards. Six other FDR players hit the scoring column.

Barry and Bob Wolven had 13 each for the Sawyers and Billy Eckhoff tallied 11. The others had off nights.

Three Left

Both the Sawyers and Arlington have three league games left. Saugerties has to meet Wappingers Falls, Beacon and Cardinal Farley while Arlington has Roosevelt, Cardinal Farley and Beacon.

Saugerties won the jayvee contest, 36-35.

Palm Springs Golf Tourney Starts Fourth Round Today

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—A peculiar malady, hole-in-one fever, subsided a degree or two today but the golfing madness continued into the fourth round of the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic.

In front was Wes Ellis Jr., a Texas-schooled pro who plays out of West Caldwell, N.J. He had a 204.

Two strokes back were veterans Johnny Palmer, Bob Goaly, Jack Fleck, and John McMullen.

Tied at 207 were Mike Souckak, Arnold Palmer, Tommy Jacobs, Al Besselnick, and Bill Johnston.

The first victim of the delightful hole-in-one malady proved to be young Joe Campbell, a towheaded ex-basketball player at Purdue, who scored a hole-in-one Friday on the 205-yard fifth hole at Tamark Country Club.

Arlington Defeats Wappingers, 61-53

All but out of the race a couple of weeks ago, Arlington High School took a giant step towards the Dutchess County Scholastic cage title with a hard earned 61-53 triumph at Wappingers Falls.

Five players went all the way for Coach Fritz Jordan and they turned in excellent performances.

This one was a struggle all the way. With a minute to play, Arlington had a 55-53 margin. However, the Falls players committed three straight fouls in a desperate anxiety to retrieve the ball and the AHS free throw shooters converted six straight attempts.

Mickey SaVino, nearing the end of a fantastic cage career, scored 22 points to lead the winners. He had valuable assistance from Art Crum (14), Rene Luik (10), Larry Weisberg (9) and Alex Credle (6).

Bob Booth and Gary Brown, the one-two backcourt punch of the Fallsmen, led them in their upset bid.

A basket by Credle early in the fourth quarter gave the winners a 49-47 edge and they never trailed after that, though the biggest spread until the last minute was three points.

Stan Benham Falters In Bobsled Tourney

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy

(AP)—The hopes of Stanley Benham, Lake Placid, N. Y., for a third world 4-man bobsled championship tumbled today.

The U. S. No. 1 sled, driven by Benham, winner of the world title in 1949 and 1950, was far down the list today after the first two of four championship heats. The other two heats will be held Sunday with the total time deciding.

A German team, headed by Johan Roesch, the 1958 winner, led the field after the first two heats with times of 1:15.86 and 1:16.97 for a total of 2:32.83. This despite a fifth place finish in the second heat.

The Germans' time for the first heat was just 38 hundredths of a second slower than the record for steep banked 1700 meter (roughly one mile) course.

Italy's No. 1 sled, driven by Zergio Zardini, was second after the two heats with times of 1:16.30 and 1:16.64 for a total of 2:32.94.

Eugenio Monti, 4-time winner of the world 2-man bobsled championship, finished fourth in the first heat, but won the second in 1:16.1, this, combined with his 1:16.40 in the first heat, gave him a total of 2:32.51, good enough for third place at the halfway mark.

Benham placed seventh in the overall standings with a 2:34.59 and the U. S. No. 2 sled, piloted by Jerry O'Toole of Washington, 13th in the 15-sled field with a 2:36.38.

Benham and his crew of Garry Sheffield, Lake Placid; Jerry Tennant of Princeton, N. Va., and Charles Pandolph, Saranac Lake, N. Y., did 1:17.09 in their first heat and 1:17.50 in the second.

The temperature was below freezing and the track ice hard. Officials described it as in better condition than two weeks ago when Monti won the 2-man championship.

O'Toole said after the runs both American teams had been handicapped by lack of practice.

Hawks Bow To Potsdam

Falling behind right from the start, the New Paltz Hawks dropped a 90-57 verdict at Plattsburgh last night. The home side had too much height and court finesse for Coach Charles P. Wolbers' five.

Artie Gribbins had one of his best nights of the season with 26 points for New Paltz. However, the rest of the players weren't much help. They could contribute only 31 points to the boxscore.

Three of the winning players hit in double figures. Plattsburgh led, 48-27, at halftime.

The Hawks are scheduled to play at Potsdam this evening.

Calhoun Scores Decision Over Ryan at Garden

By JACK HANDE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Did he fall or was he pushed? The answer to that question about Rory Calhoun's sixth round "knockdown" of Billy Ryan was more interesting than the fact that Calhoun won a unanimous 10-round decision.

The crowd of 3,000 at Madison Square Garden and the television audience must have wondered what was going on Friday night when Ryan stumbled back and fell on his rear and Referee Ruby Goldstein started to count.

A right to the side of the body caught Ryan in mid-air. He seemed to try to back off, tripped and fell. When the knockdown timekeeper started to count, Goldstein picked it up and made Ryan take an automatic eight-count.

"He was hit on the body," said Ruby after the match. "He fell from the aftereffect. But he got hit."

Calhoun said about the same thing. "I thought it was delayed action from my right to the side." Ryan, nursing a swollen right ankle in his dressing room, claimed he wasn't knocked down. "It was no knockdown," he said. "I was pulling away from his right hand and twisted my ankle."

Dr. Harry Kleinman of the New York State Athletic Commission said Ryan had suffered a "bad sprain."

Calhoun used a left jab to keep the short-armed Ryan from crowding him. Ryan, 164½, gave away 6½ pounds to Ryan, 171, but his superior reach made him look the bigger man.

Edwin Krom Gets 151 Triplicate In Electrol Loop

Edwin Krom entered the Triplicate Club last night in the Electrol League as he rolled three games of 151 each for a 453 total.

He will receive a patch from the ABC signifying his unusual feat.

Middletown, Liberty Win DUSO Tilts

Liberty and Middletown notched DUSO League triumphs last evening to move up a notch in the standings.

The Indians went on the road and romped, 67-50, at Port Jervis. Middletown, with ace Tom Slover out of the lineup with an injury, topped visiting Fallsburgh, 74-68.

Joel Goldberg with 20 points sparked Liberty. Tom Coleman was the best for the Porters. He canned 16 markers. It was 32-24, at halftime and the Indians widened their margin in the last period.

Bob Kunis sat out the first period and then scored 30 points in a vain attempt to lead the Fallsburgh Comets to their first DUSO triumph in 46 games.

Nick Cosco and Dom Roselli, a pair of pint sized guards, led the Midlands to their success. Cosco had 21 points and Roselli threw in 18.

Rain Over Wide Areas of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Precipitation dampened vast areas of the country today. Rain extended from Virginia northward into New England and westward through the Great Lakes states.

Snow fell in extreme northern New England and sleet and freezing drizzle glazed highways in lower Michigan.

Snow flurries were scattered over the north and central Rockies, while light rain fell from northern California northward into Washington.

Temperatures remained unseasonably mild, ranging from the 20s in the Great Lakes region to generally the 30s and 40s elsewhere. And 50 and 60-degree warmth prevailed in California, along the Gulf Coast and from southern Georgia southward into Florida.

A cooling trend was predicted for the Great Lakes area southward through the Gulf Coast states, while a gradual warming was expected from Texas northward through Nebraska.

Skies cleared over the southern plains after Friday's snowstorm. Highways generally were clear in Oklahoma's Panhandle where some highways had been blocked Friday with snow drifts up to six feet.

UAW Meet Today For Settlement On Flint Strike

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — United Auto Workers meet today to vote on a settlement aimed at ending a Chevrolet strike here which has affected plants throughout the nation.

General Motors and the UAW announced an agreement Friday night, but it must be approved by the members of UAW Local 659. Plant Manager Grosvenor Swift said he expected all operations at the plant to resume on regular shifts Monday.

E. S. Patterson, UAW regional director, said the union's bargaining team would recommend that the workers accept the agreement. The strike shut down the plant Wednesday. The plant makes six-cylinder engines for standard Chevrolets and produces other parts for autos and trucks.

Navy to Transfer Missile Cruiser From Struck Yard

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — The Navy says it will transfer construction of the guided missile light cruiser Springfield from Bethlehem Steel Co.'s yard here about Feb. 15 unless a shipbuilders' strike is settled.

The warning to Bethlehem and the strikers Friday followed union rejection of a Navy proposal that workers be allowed into the Quincy yard to complete work on the Springfield.

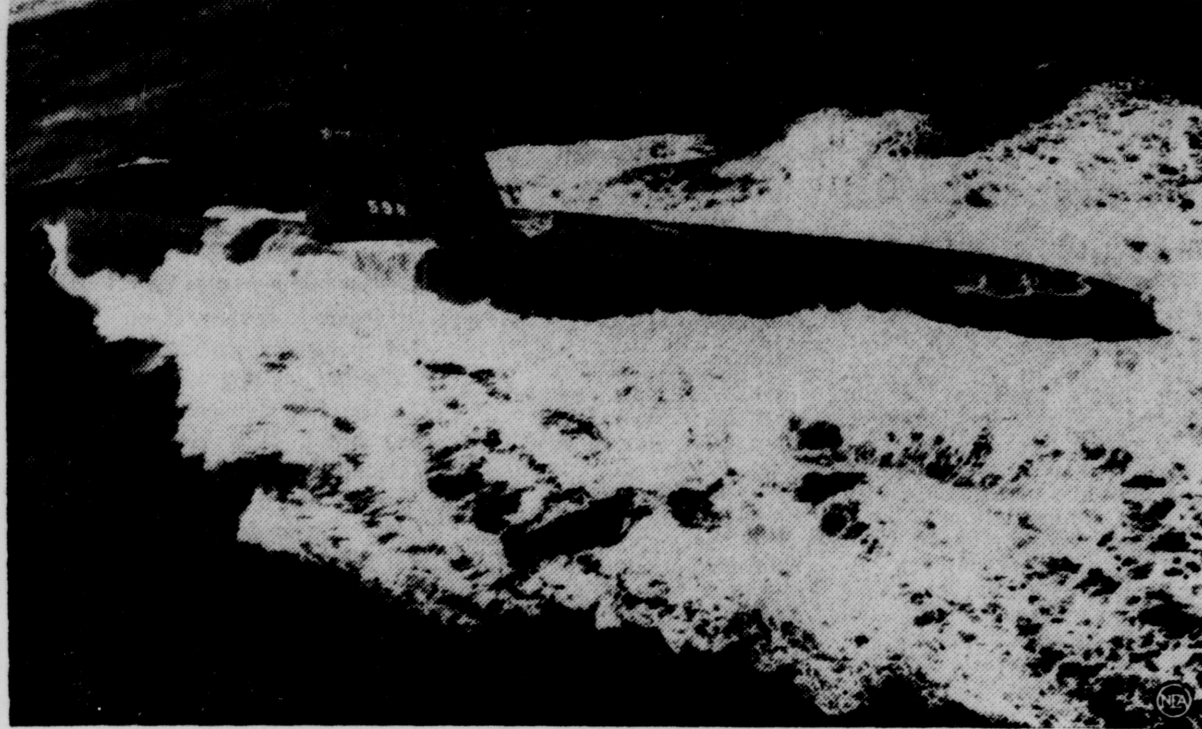

The Springfield is reported about 95 per cent complete. Negotiations for Bethlehem and the strikers met in New York Friday but a federal mediator reported no progress.

More than 16,000 shipbuilders in Bethlehem's eastern seaboard plants have been on strike since mid-January. The walkout affects eight shipyards and a nuclear research center.

The union's contract with Bethlehem expired last July. Company and union are deadlocked over wages, work rules and job classifications.

Eisenhowers at Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower is taking it easy today at his farm. The President and his wife moved to their country estate late Friday afternoon. They plan to drive back to the White House Sunday evening or Monday morning.

Why Missile Gap May Never Develop

U.S. Trying to Leapfrog Today's ICBMs Into New, Better Weapons

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Jumping in now to close the possible missile gap of 1962-64 would seriously endanger the security of the United States.

Likewise, if the Russians built all the 1960-type ballistic missiles in 1960-63 that U. S. estimates think they're capable of, Nikita Khrushchev would be endangering his own defense position.

This is the startling private thinking of some of the top U. S. Defense men. It is the reason why current U. S. missile production will be relatively small in 1960-62, until new type missiles are ready.

This is the reason why there are some men in the Pentagon who now think that a real missile gap may never develop.

Lesson From Korea

To understand this reasoning we have to go back a few years.

Take the air war in Korea. The Russians had concentrated on jets. The U. S. was far behind. The Red MIG was so good that they mass produced it. There was a "plane gap." The Russians had a lot of these modern planes. The U. S. didn't. But by leapfrogging the MIG-15 type plane the U. S. produced smaller numbers of a better plane, and the air battle in Korea was lopsided in our favor.

U. S. military men believe this lesson was not lost on the Russians.

Again look back several years. There was great furor in the U. S. that Russians were producing a huge intercontinental bomber fleet. The men who were forecasting a bomber gap were forecasting a bomber gap with sands of superior Russian bombers ready in a few years.

The U. S. tried to meet that gap, and built a large number of intercontinental bombers, hurried continental defenses at great expense.

Threat Never Developed

But the Russian threat never developed. The Reds decided to leapfrog into missiles. The U. S. ended up with a considerable supply of intercontinental bombers which quickly were obsolescent.

In top U. S. military circles this Russian bomber red herring is now regarded as one of the major Russian victories—wasting U. S. production and effort in a blind alley.

Now these Defense planners see the same pattern developing. They see Khrushchev speaking loudly about how many missiles he is producing.

But while Mr. K. talks, they notice two things.

1. He is improving his conventional army, navy and air force in quality. He is producing more conventional weapons, not fewer.

2. He is not—so far at least—stepping up his missile production sharply. Nor is there evidence that he is planning to do so.

If Khrushchev were going to produce a great quantity of 1960-type missiles, he'd have to already have started a vast program of missile bases. So far there has been no evidence of this.

But whatever Khrushchev does, U. S. planners think they've learned the lesson of the Korean air battle and intercontinental bomber race.

So U. S. strategists want to leapfrog today's old-fashioned intercontinental ballistic missiles. They want to turn out only as many liquid-fueled Atlases and Titans as they have to to get by.

For these missiles with their fixed and well-advised locations will soon be sitting ducks for Red sneak attacks. They're cumbersome and expensive. They're not versatile. They tie the U. S. to a vast network of expensive soon-to-be obsolete type of missile bases.

If turned out in large quantities, they would tie up a great portion of U. S. military effort and organization on weapons and bases capable of doing only one job in one way.

The strategists instead aim at jumping right to a new generation of superior ballistic missiles—the solid-fueled Sky Bolt, Minuteman and the advanced Polaris.

Others Highly Mobile

These are highly mobile. They get away from the fixed Maginot-line type of defense. The 5,000-mile-plus Minuteman can be put on railway cars. The 1,500-mile Polaris fits on subs. The 1,000-mile Sky Bolt will nest neatly on B-52s and B-58s.

These new missiles can't be zeroed in by Soviet intelligence men and knocked out on the first lick. They are relatively cheap and can be produced quickly in large numbers. They can do a variety of jobs.

"If we concentrated on the Atlas and Titan closing the gap now, we'd be condemning ourselves to certain inferiority later. This we can't afford."

"It's not just expense. Once you get a big program like that in motion—bases, men, weapons, electronics—it's hard to turn the juggernaut around. And you find yourself committed to a defense that just isn't quite good enough."

Rejects Bid to Name Negro to Police Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has flatly rejected a Harlem committee's recommendation that he appoint a Negro as deputy police commissioner.

"Appointments, promotions and assignments are not and will not be made on the basis of politics, color, race or religion," Kennedy said Friday.

To do so, he said, would "not only be wrong but would be illegal."

The committee made the recommendation along with others to improve the community relations of the police force in Harlem. The group was created by Mayor Robert F. Wagner after a near riot in Harlem last July 13.

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo authorities today indicted 21 Japanese students as ringleaders of a riot staged at Tokyo's International Airport Jan. 16 in an attempt to block Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's departure for the United States.

The students belong to a left-wing group which opposed the new U. S. - Japanese security treaty which Kishi went to Washington to sign.

$10 Per Square Foot Finish New Paltz School Addition At Low Cost Rate

NEW PALTZ — The four-room addition at New Paltz Central School reported near completion was constructed at a cost per square foot of slightly over $10, a low rate compared with an average of other areas closer to $20, according to a report by Frederick Dippel, supervising principal.

In a report issued by the principal this week, he spoke of the accomplishments and future plans of the school.

"Our four-room addition is just about completed and we will be moving into it within the next week or so. We are proud of the economical way in which these rooms were constructed. The cost per square foot works out to just a little over $10. This almost unheard-of in school costs today with most construction running closer to $20 per square foot. Yet we have done everything possible to build rooms which are conducive to good teaching and we feel that we have successfully accomplished this goal," Dippel said.

In order to enable our elementary teachers to improve their background in science and to develop skill in classroom demonstrations, we are offering an in-service course in science under the direction of Theodore Sirko, high school science teacher. This class meets from 3:45 to 5:45 each Wednesday for 15 weeks. We are proud of the enthusiastic way that this has been accepted by our elementary teachers. Eighteen teachers are registered in this course and the State Education Department has authorized us to award two semester hours of in-service credit toward certification requirements to any who successfully complete the course. We feel that the science instruction in our elementary school will be greatly improved by this program.

"Mr. Johnstone, our guidance director, has been busy preparing tentative schedules for next year for each of our students. When these are completed they will be sent home for parent approval. We are happy that this very important task is being completed so early since it gives us plenty of time for discussion of individual problems. We urge parents who have any questions about their child's schedule to contact Mr. Johnstone as soon as possible."

"Now that we have our four new elementary rooms we are planning to put into practice next year at the Gardner School a plan we have had in mind for several years. We anticipate having a kindergarten in one of the rooms and a first and second grade combination in the other one. We feel that this plan has a distinct advantage since it eliminates the necessity of the very young children making the long bus trip to the central school each day. Present estimates indicate that we expect from 18 to 20 students in this kindergarten and a first and second grade combination of about 20."

"Another plan we have is to move our art Department into the Hasbrouck House. Our art room at present is inadequate spacewise. We will gain one room in the high school when Mrs. Van Leuvan's fifth grade moves into one of the new elementary rooms. By moving the art department to the Hasbrouck House this will give us the other high school room which we will need. "Mrs. Cunningham has been busy working with the seniors on their annual play. They will present the Barretts of Wimpole Street on March 25. We hope that the friends of the school will support this play since it promises to be as good or better than the fine performance given last year under Mrs. Cunningham's direction.

"Like most other schools our biggest problem is one of increased enrollments. Five years ago we had a total of 449 students. This year we have 840, an increase of 87 per cent. "I have recently made a careful study of what we can expect in the future with the assistance of Mr. Buckley, high school principal and Mr. Foley of the Board of Education. We each attacked the problem a different way. The results of all three studies correlated very closely. We have averaged the three results and drawn the conclusion that barring an abnormal situation which would bring into or take out of the community a large number of families, we can expect, within the next five years, 647 in our elementary school and 514 in our high school—a total of 1161. Our present building space will be entirely inadequate to handle this increase."

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlini says there are "several hundred thousand" more names of New Yorkers on the federal government's lists for income tax withholding than there are on the state's lists.

The Long Beach Republican further commented Friday: "In April (when both federal and state income tax years close) the state plans to compare the two lists."

Two Germans Who Touched Off Racial Outbursts Jailed

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Two young Germans who touched off a worldwide wave of anti-Jewish outbursts by the Christmas Eve desecration of the Cologne Synagogue were sent to jail today by the State Court here.

Arnold Strunk, 25, a baker, who said he had defaced the temple to draw attention to the "Jewish danger to the German race," was sentenced to a year and two months.

Paul Schoenen, 25, an apprentice clerk, was given a 10-month term for assisting Strunk and talking him into smearing a monument to Nazi victims because he felt it was "soiling the honor of the German people."

They were convicted on multiple charges of damaging a religious shrine, slandering the memory of the dead, blasphemy and insult. In addition, Strunk was found guilty of endangering the life of a citizen.

Both are former members of the extreme right-wing German Reich party. Bonn authorities are considering a ban of the party. Strunk and Schoenen denied during their one-day trial that they had been instigated by Reich party leaders.

A medical expert had described both as psychopathic scatterbrains with no intelligence rating and an "animal-like fanaticism."

Trooper Joseph Ventriglia said the car was proceeding south at 12:30 a. m. when it left the highway on the westerly side of the highway.
